REED COLLEGE REACTOR;
[redacted]

Synopsis: To request the opening of a new case.

Details: On May 31, 2005, SA [redacted] informed SA [redacted] that Portland FBI received a call from [redacted] at Reed College, who reported that a student had possibly tampered with a computer monitoring system at the Reed College nuclear reactor.

SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] responded to Reed College and met with [redacted]. While interviewing [redacted] arrived, and also sat in on the interview. [redacted] stated to the Agents that he was scheduled to have a conference call with the Nuclear Regulatory Commission and asked the Agent to leave.

Following the conference call, SA [redacted] returned and interviewed [redacted]. During this interview it was learned that on May 10 and May 11, 2005, a computer system that records reactor data crashed. The only person who checked into the reactor at the time when both of those crashed was [redacted]. On May 17th, 2005, [redacted] discovered that a wire located within a piece of circuitry that controls a control rod in the reactor was missing.

[redacted] described [redacted] as being a "brilliant" student who was majoring in [redacted] should have graduate in the spring term of [redacted] by the Dean of Reed College. [redacted] both stated that they did not observe anything unusual about [redacted] and stated that further questions about the [redacted] should be directed toward the Dean. [redacted] stated that [redacted] was [redacted] approximately one month before the incident at the reactor and both were aware of this.

b7C

[redacted] showed SA's [redacted] a copy of [redacted] license to operate the reactor. They stated that they had written a letter to the NRC requesting that [redacted] license be terminated because he is no longer a student. Additionally, the reactor staff has terminated [redacted] access to the reactor and taken additional steps to increase site security.

b6
b7C

New case file [redacted] was opened and assigned to SA [redacted] which makes it a 20 year felony to intentionally do an act which causes the disruption in the normal operation of a facility regulated by the NRC. These acts are also potentially a violation of 18 USC 1366 for damaging or attempting to damage an energy facility.

[redacted] recalls statements made by [redacted] during the meeting as follows:

On May 10, 2005, the MT at the lab was found to be in the "flushing mode", where data is moved from the MT to a personal computer for analysis. The MT was frozen, so [redacted] checked the logs to determine if anything was wrong with the MT. [redacted] conducted a soft reset [redacted] and the MT came back online. [redacted] then left the lab. [redacted] stated she would check the logs and let the interviewing Agent know what time this occurred and if in fact there was a soft reboot conducted.

the lab staff informing the MT was still broken and needed to be fixed. On the morning of May 11, 2005, [redacted] emailed the lab staff and informed she had fixed the MT. A full software reinstall was required to bring the MT back online. [redacted] stated [redacted] seemed surprised to find out the MT had been fixed.

b7C

[redacted] came to the lab the night of May 11, 2005, and found the MT to be working. [redacted] conducted a soft reset and screen reload on the MT, even though it was working. When questioned about this [redacted] stated the "extraneous", or extra screen maps, were enabled and he disabled them. [redacted] stated she had checked the "extraneous" screens earlier in the day and knows they were not enabled.

b6
b7C

[redacted] stated in April, 2005, the MT failed and the log indicated that disabling the extraneous screens had fixed the problem.

[redacted] stated MT was working when he left the lab on May 11, 2005. July 26, 2005

Special Agent [redacted]
Federal Bureau of Investigation
1500 SW First Avenue, Suite 400
Portland, OR 97201

RE: [redacted]

Dear [redacted]

In connection with the above matter, various records, grand jury testimony, and/or witnesses have been presented to the grand jury and are made available to you in connection with your investigation. Such disclosure is made to you under the provisions of Rule 6(e), Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, which provides, in part, as follows:

(3) Exceptions

- (A) Disclosure otherwise prohibited by this rule of matters occurring before the grand jury, other than its deliberations and the vote of any grand juror, may be made to-
- (i) an attorney for the government for use in the performance of such attorney's duty; and
  - (ii) such governmental personnel-Including those of a state or state subdivision or an Indian tribe- as are deemed necessary by the attorney for the government to assist an attorney for the government in the performance of such attorney's duty to enforce federal criminal law.
- (B) Any person to whom matters are disclosed under subparagraph (A) (ii) of this paragraph shall not utilize that grand jury material, testimony, and/or witness information for any purpose other than assisting the attorney for the government in the performance of such attorney's duty to enforce federal criminal law. An attorney for the government shall promptly provide the district court, before which was impaneled the grand jury whose material, testimony, and/or witness information has been so disclosed, with the names of the persons to whom such disclosure has been made.

Accordingly, you may not use any grand jury information, testimony, and/or witness information you receive in regard to this investigation for any purpose other than assisting the attorney for the government in the performance of such attorney's duty to enforce federal criminal law in this particular criminal investigation. Any misuse of grand jury information, testimony, and/or witness information for another purpose or any unauthorized disclosure of matters occurring before the grand jury may be punishable as a contempt of court.

Additionally, you are further advised that pursuant to this rule, your name will be supplied to the U.S. District Court as an individual to whom Rule 6(e) disclosures are being made. You are further directed that in the event it becomes necessary for you to discuss or disclose this grand jury material, testimony, and/or witness information with other members of your agency, you are to obtain my permission for such disclosure prior to such disclosure and to provide me with the names of such persons so that this additional information can be reported to the court.

AND Pursuant to Grand Jury subpoenas for records and documents protected by The Right to Financial Privacy Act (12 U.S.C. §§3401 et seq.) you are advised that pursuant to 12 U.S.C. §3420(2), the financial records and documents you receive in response to a grand jury subpoena:

Shall be used only for the purpose of considering whether to issue and indictment or presentment by that grand jury, or of prosecuting a crime for which that indictment or presentment is issued, or for a purpose authorized by rule 6(e) of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure. (Emphasis added.)

When you receive these records and documents they must remain in your custody and under your control and may be used by you in investigating the alleged violations of federal criminal laws. Disclosure of these records for any purpose other than those quoted from Section 3420(2) is absolutely prohibited.

Finally, you are directed to advise me promptly of the status of investigative steps instituted by you based upon the grand jury materials, testimony, and/or witness information disclosed to you.

Please sign the original of this letter indicating your knowledge of the requirements of Rule 6(e), keep a copy for your records, and return the original signed copy in the enclosed envelope.

Very truly yours,
